Foreword

Although it has been impossible for us to make this annual complete and perfect in every way, we have tried in this small volume to reflect the activities and spirit of this school year. Time will be the test of our efforts.

In future years we hope that the pictures and activities shown in this yearbook will bring fond memories and joy to you.

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Students of Quail School:

In this message to you I should like to use the words of James Metcalfe on the subject of Good Example:

"There are so many ways in life... Of doing good on earth.... To help some individual.... Appreciate its worth.. And out of all the ways there are.... The best is not to teach.... To threaten, argue or command.... And surely not to preach.... But just to live unselfishly... And to be good and true.. And treat another as you wish... That he would favor you.... To set a good example by... Your conduct every day... Your actual Accomplishments.... And all the things you say.... Because a good example is.. The best that we can give.... To bring about a better world... In which to work and live."

May each of you have a long happy life, and may I be worthy to be considered your friend.

Sincerely,

Noah Cunningham

Principal's Message

Dear Student Friends,

It is, as always, a pleasure to me to express my appreciation to you both as students and friends. It has been a good year, and it has been you, of course, that has made it so. You well deserve to see the fulfillment of all your dreams and the accomplishments of all your efforts to succeed.

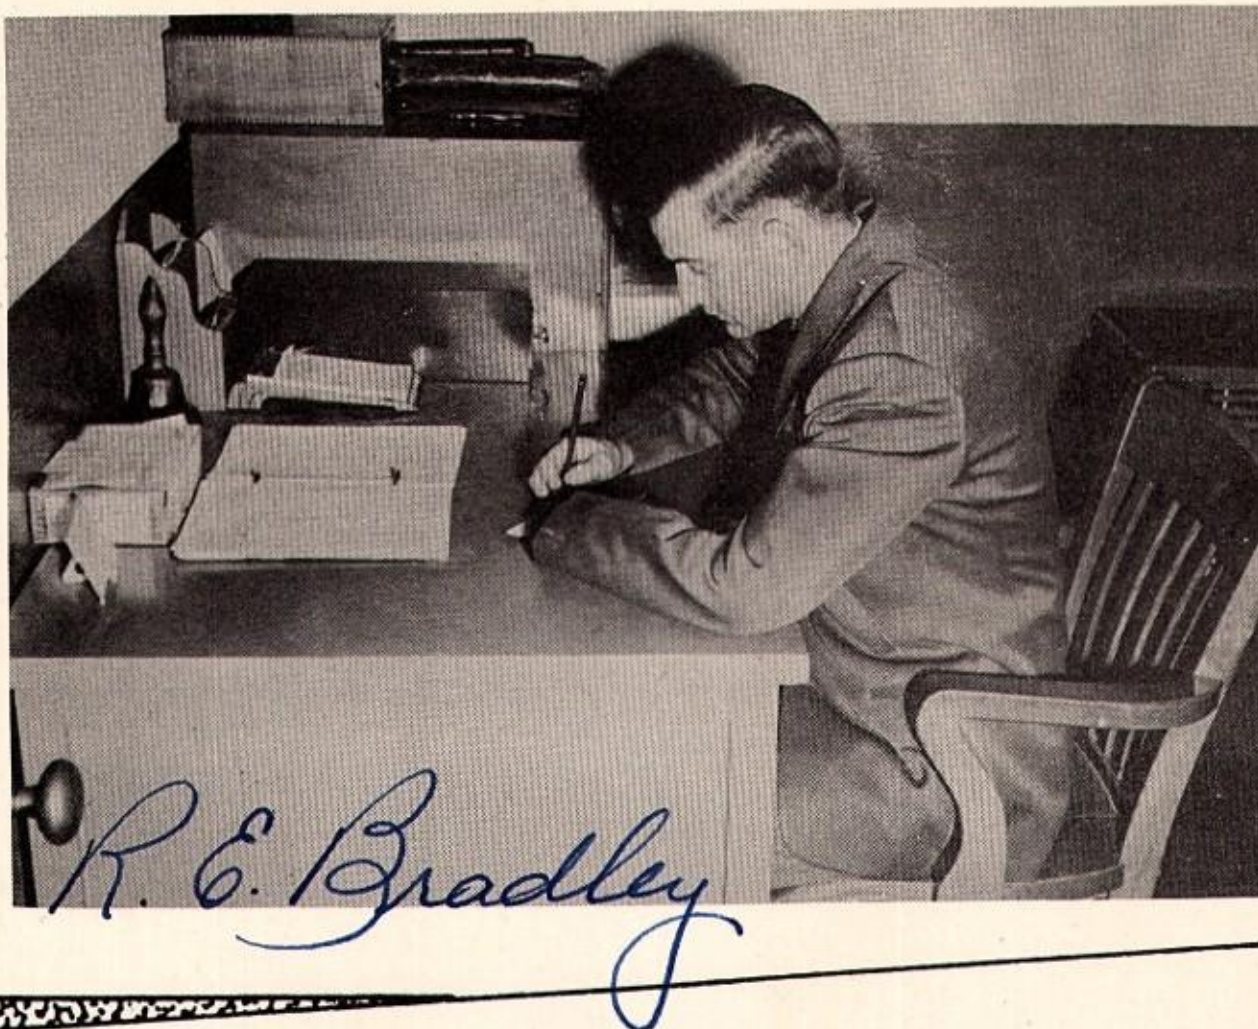

When you read this it will be near graduation time, a time that will take some of you from the school life you had loved and hated... a time to face an adult life that you have looked forward to and yet dreaded because of the uncertainty of it. It will not be long until each of you must face the challenge, and, as you do, may you gain strength through the years to face each new experience with the same courage, the same trust and faith, and the same fight that you had shown in your youth. I had no doubt but that you will win in this game of life.

Sincerely yours,
W.C. Risinger

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

To My Student Friends:

It has been a pleasure working with you during this year, and you are to be congratulated on your many accomplishments.

May I remind you who are graduating, that you are commencing to take upon yourselves the obligation of citizenship in the greatest country in the world, that this citizenship demands certain obligations, which are loyalty to its demands, obedience to its laws, truthfulness to its teachings, and faith in its institutions.

May the happier and better things of life always be yours.

Cordially yours,
